DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 47,48,50,51,53,55 and 61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Ogura et al. (JP 2001311576) or 102(e) as being anticipated by Ogura et al. (U.S. Patent Number 6,698,210).

Ogura et al. disclose a cold insulation chamber. Referring to Fig.8, a cooler box 3 comprises a hermetically closable insulated cooling chamber 1a formed inside and a cooling device 2 cools the interior of the cooling chamber 1a. The body member 3 is composed of a bottom portion 3a having the shape of a bottomed cylinder and two ring-shaped frame members 3b and 3c are fitted to the bottom portion 3a by being piled on top of it. The frame member 3b and 3c are removable, and thus, by piling or removing them as required, it is possible to vary the volume of the cooling chamber 1a. The lid member 4 is supported on a frame member 19, to which the lid member 4 is pivotably fitted with a hinge mechanism (not shown). The member 3b,3c and 19 are considered as a body. A sealing means around a lower periphery of the body, a first temperature zone in the chest portion and a second temperature zone in the cavity are inherent in the apparatus because the chamber 1a is insulated and the cooling device 2 is located at the bottom of the system.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 52 and 54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ogura et al. (JP 2001311576) in view of Thomas (AU-A-72075/96).

Ogura et al. discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Ogura et al. does not disclose clips coupling. Thomas discloses clip coupling in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of connection in the refrigerator. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the apparatus of Ogura et al. with a clip coupling in view of Thomas so as to connect the components.

5. Claims 56, 57 and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ogura et al. (JP 2001311576).

In regard to claim 56, the applicant should note that the selection of known material based upon its suitability for the intended use is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Leshin, 227 F.2d 197, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960).

In regard to claim 57, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to integrally make one piece of inner case, since it been held to be within the general skill of art to make plural parts as a matter of obvious engineering choice.

In re Larson, 144 USPQ 347 (CCPA 1965); In re Lockart, 90 USPQ 214 (CCPA 1951).

In regard to claim 59, the device is capable to have a basket.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-46 are allowed.
7. Claim 60 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
